

Land Clearing Bill Gets Axe; Save $55,000

Assembly Continues On Its Way
Of Abolishing Minor
Departments

ENGROSS PRISON MADE BILL

Madison—The assembly continued on its way of abolishing minor departments directing activities of the state government Monday when it voted to put an end to land clearing demonstrations. A saving of $55,000 annually would be effected by this action if it occurred in the senate.

Money is expended by the state to demonstrate the best methods of clearing land in northern Wisconsin and to aid in the opening of the cut-over regions to settlement. The application feature did not meet with approval of the assembly.

The Engross bill requiring that prison made goods manufactured in Wisconsin be plainly marked was engrossed by the assembly. This bill has been killed by several preceding legislatures.

Exemptions of widows under the state inheritance tax are reduced from $25,000 to $15,000 by a bill engrossed in the assembly. This measure was introduced by the taxation committee at request of the tax commission.

An appropriation of $15,000 annually to the tax commission for dissemination of information concerning the source of revenue in Wisconsin, the responsibilities for levies and the relative tax burdens of different classes of property was approved by the assembly.

This proposal would give the tax commission funds with which to educate the people in tax problems.

JUSTICE CROWNHART TO BE UNOPPOSED

By Associated Press
Madison—Justice Charles H. Crownhart, of the Wisconsin Supreme court, will be unopposed at the judicial election April 3, the secretary of state announced Monday as the time for filing nomination papers closed.

Similarly four circuit judges of the state will be elected by default, due to the failure of opposition to develop to their candidacy. They are Charles M. Davidson of the thirteenth circuit; Gulick N. Risorgio, fifteenth circuit; Chester A. Fowler, eighteenth circuit, and William B. Quinlan, twentieth circuit.

The election of Justice Crownhart for the full ten year term of membership on the Supreme court, was asked by Senator LaFollette and Governor Blaine. He was appointed to succeed the late Chief Justice Siebeck, in February 1922. Before that time he had served on the state industrial commission as a revisor of statutes.

Without opposition to Justice Crownhart the spring judicial election will lack a fight of state wide interest. Local elections are scheduled in all of the counties.

ROLL HIGH MARK IN ELK TOURNAMENT

Becker's Recreation Alleys, Milwaukee, Monday afternoon, rolled into third place of the five-man events at the Elks state tournament with a score of 2,829, nailing out Capper and Capper, also of Milwaukee, which went into third place Saturday night with 2,827 pins.

Washington — Panama canal employees affiliated with labor organizations have petitioned President Harding to restore the practice of furnishing them free rent, fuel, light, electric power and services for living quarters.

ARMED MOBS LOOT ESSEN FOOD STORES

Shooting And Wild Riots Grip
City As Police Are Expelled

Essen—Essen experienced the wildest night since the beginning of the occupation, and in the early Sunday morning hours food stores were looted and others broken into by armed mobs, said to be composed of the unemployed.

One of the largest cabarets, the Frocadero, was held up Saturday night and several hundred patrons were robbed of all their cash. This robbery was carried out by fifteen or twenty men, whom the Germans declared were Communists who had taken advantage of the expulsion of the security police, which force has not yet been adequately replaced by municipal police.

This city is virtually without police protection at present and many of the citizens, in fear of further robberies or violence by bandits in the streets, are arming themselves as best they can for their own protection.

Early Sunday morning a German workman was shot and killed by a French sentry and another German was wounded while in the railroad yards near the main passenger train station in the center of the city. The French assert that the sentry ordered the Germans to halt, and when they did not reply he shot to kill, in compliance with his orders.

They charge the Germans with attempting to seize the city, the German authorities maintain that the men did not realize they were encroaching on ground under military control. This station was occupied by the French on Saturday, and all the rolling stock in the Essen yards was confiscated.

Marks to the amount of 1,000,000, 000 from the Berlin Reichsbank, which were being transported to banks in Duisburg, were seized on Saturday by the Belgians. This money was to be applied to payment of the cost of the Rhineland army of occupation, on which account Germany is in arrears.

M'NARY WITHDRAWS AS COMPTROLLER

Washington — James G. McNary, New Mexico, whose nomination for comptroller of the currency failed to be confirmed by the senate, was offered a recess appointment Monday by President Harding, but replied that he could not accept.

Afterwards it was announced that Dr. W. A. Crissinger, the present comptroller, would continue in that office for the present despite the fact that he had been nominated and confirmed as governor of Federal Reserve board.

THREE LARGE REFORM BODIES POOL RESOURCES

By Associated Press
New York—Three of the country's oldest and most substantial reform organizations have pooled their financial resources and mapped a plan of campaign against prohibition repeal, race track gambling, prize fights, salacious literature, Sunday theatrical performances, and traffic in narcotics, the New York World declared Monday.

The new organization, according to the World, is to be known as the International Reform Bureau of the World Temperance foundation. The affiliated bodies are said to be the International Reform Bureau, founded more than 30 years ago by the late Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts; the world Prohibition foundation and the National Temperance society.

Lives In Old Boiler For Seventeen Years

San Francisco—A retired sea captain, John McKenzie, has been living in a large discarded boiler since the earthquake and fire of 1906. It was learned after a patrolman named Callahan had beaten out flames from McKenzie's clothing in time to save the old man from fatal injury. Callahan and McKenzie were in a local hospital Monday and reported recovering from the burns they suffered in the experience.

With the rescue was heard an odd, remote echo of the great earthquake and fire of 1906. McKenzie caught fire accidentally and rushed out into the street where the policeman saved him. Later at the hospital, McKenzie described his home and position. Curious

Open Window Saves Man's Life As 6 Die

By Associated Press
Chicago—William Powers, state representative, Monday owed his life to a habit of sleeping with his room window open, thus escaping death from deadly vapor that snuffed out the lives of six persons, three generations of one family, in the apartment where he resides. The entire family of six was killed by fumes used as a disinfectant in a restaurant under their apartment.

O. W. Hull, who said he represented the Nation Hygienic corporation, Buffalo, New York, and who directed the fumigation at the instance of Peter Vrdolyak and M. Gush, proprietors of the restaurant, was under arrest Monday, police terming his work a case of negligence which might result in serious charges.

The dead are William Kratzberger, 50, wealthy retired wagonmaker, Mary, 68, his wife, John, 54, their son; Mrs. Laura Szymanski, 38, their daughter of the Kratzbergers; Henry Szymanski, 38, her husband, and Harold, their 15 year old son.

DOLLAR GAS TO COME, SENATE PROBERS WARN

Oil Trusts Manipulate Prices,
Declares LaFollette
Committee

By Associated Press
Washington—"A dollar a gallon for gasoline," is the prospect held up for the consumer in the report of the LaFollette oil investigating committee to the senate, unless means are taken to break up what the report declares to be a complete domination and control of the oil industry by the Standard companies. If a few great oil companies are permitted to "manipulate prices" during the next few years as they have been doing, since 1920, the report, presented Sunday, said the people of the country must be prepared "before long" to pay "at least" that price.

Among eight measures recommended by the committee to curb the evils found were establishment of a uniform accounting system for oil companies, to show costs and profits; compulsory monthly reporting to a government agency to show particularly the quantities of crude oil and its products in storage and transportation; divestment of the ownership of pipe lines from companies transporting the oil, and prohibition or regulation of the exportation of petroleum.

Investigation looking to contempt proceedings before the supreme court in all cases of implied or expressed agreement to fix prices arbitrarily or restrain trade also was recommended as was institution of grand jury proceedings wherever price manipulation is attempted.

STORM CAUSES HAVOC IN STATE

By Associated Press
LaCrosse—Damage estimated at several hundred thousand dollars was done in western Wisconsin by the rain, sleet and snow storm Sunday. The weight of the heavy snow, driven by a strong wind, broke down miles of telegraph, telephone and electric light wires. Hundreds of poles were snapped off. Streets of LaCrosse are littered with broken trees. Railroad traffic was paralyzed Sunday. The Southern Minnesota line of the Milwaukee railroad was the hardest hit. Trees and poles were felled at frequent intervals across the track. All available linemen are working day and night repairing damage to wire lines. Some of the rural telephone lines will not be repaired inside of two weeks. Ten inches of snow fell here.

New York—Edward Lauterbach, pioneer lawyer and former president of the Baltimore and Southern Railway company and vice president of the American Railroad company of Porto Rico, died.

The News In Brief

Cologne—General DeGoutte, French commander, has notified the Reichsbank that he will not return any of the twelve billion marks seized by the French at Cologne.

Vienna—Street cars were derailed and many Jews were beaten, stabbed and driven from the city in anti-Jewish disorders at the conclusion of a meeting of the Jewish municipal councilors.

Pittsburg — A windstorm which reached a velocity of 72 miles an hour swept the Pittsburg district, causing the loss of two lives, much property damage and delay of rail traffic.

Washington — A committee, representing the United Mine Workers in a communication filed with the Federal Coal commission, expressed the belief that the distributors of anthracite are taking a profit equal to that of the operators.

Monte Carlo—Miss Kitty MacKane, England, won the women's singles in the Monte Carlo tournament, by defeating Miss Elizabeth Ryan, formerly of California.

Cherbourg — "Battling" Siki, the Senegalese pugilist, who is to meet Mike McGuire in a bout at Dublin, March 17, sailed for Queenstown.

POLICEMAN IS ONE OF PAIR IN FLOUR THEFT

Patrolman Samuel Ford Resigns
When Charged With
Liethen Burglary

The local police department was in gloom Monday over the arrest of one of its members. When a warrant charging burglary was served upon Patrolman Samuel Ford Monday, he had already resigned from the force. Ford and his stepfather, N. J. Lorge, 439 South River-st., were to be arraigned in municipal court Monday afternoon, charged by the Liethen Grain company with stealing flour from its elevator on College-ave Saturday night.

The arrest was made as a result of a midnight encounter Saturday of Frank Liethen of the Liethen Grain company with Patrolman Ford and a man who is said to have been his stepfather.

When Mr. Liethen was driving past the company's elevator at about 1:15 Sunday morning, he observed a man carrying a sack of flour from the building to an automobile. He immediately accosted the man and demanded an explanation.

DEMANDS ARREST
Just then Patrolman Ford came from around the building, and Mr. Liethen demanded the arrest of the thief at the same time, showing the officer where the flour had been taken to.

"Why," he exclaimed, "that's my automobile."

It is said that Ford made an effort to arrest the man, but the thief escaped around the building. It was also noted that Patrolman Ford encountered some delay in stating his automobile, in which he intended to take chase.

The description of the escaped thief is said to correspond with that of N. J. Lorge, Ford's father-in-law. Consequently when Ford reported to Chief George T. Dign what had happened, he was asked if he had not been a partner with his stepfather in the crime. Lorge was questioned separately. When found he was wearing a different coat and hat.

DOOR TEMPTED
It is said that Ford finally admitted the deed and that he was prompted to do it when he observed that the door of Liethen Grain elevator was open. This was while he was on duty and covering his beat on West College-ave. He then went home and brought his stepfather in his automobile to take the flour home, according to police reports.

Both Mr. Koch and Chief Prim expressed grief over the affair. Ford had been on the force since June 27, 1921. He had previously served in the United States army in the World war.

"Ford was a very valuable man for the force," said Chief Prim. "I'm sorry things turned out as they did."

Chairman Koch, while deprecating the crime committed, took occasion to defend the police force as a whole.

"The affair does not in any way cast a reflection upon the credit of the force," he said. "We have one of the best police departments in the state. It is too bad the thing happened."

Even Snow Bank Doesn't Cool Fever Of Girl

Escanaba—The condition of Miss Evelyn Lyons, 30, who has been baffling the medical profession of Escanaba by carrying a temperature of 114 degrees for the last fourteen days has not changed in the past 24 hours according to Dr. Harry Defnet, city health officer in charge of the case. According to Dr. Defnet's report the girl is walking about the house at times strenuously objecting to staying in bed.

An episode in the young woman's illness, which occurred last Monday, was related Monday by neighbors of the girl. As the mother of the girl left the sick room it was said, Miss Lyons left the bed and went in to the open with the temperature considerably below the freezing point. After a frantic search of an hour, the mother assisted by several neighbors found the girl lying in a snow bank in an adjoining alley.

"I was tired of staying in bed and wanted to cool off," the girl was declared to have said in response to the anxious mother's queries. According to the attending physicians, she was none the worse for her experience. All day Sunday the girl protested against her confinement saying that "she was sure she would be better off if allowed to go outdoors."

A temperature reading, however, taken after an ice cooling treatment, showed the mercury in the clinical thermometer to the top. Dr. Defnet has been receiving telegrams from the patient's medical men throughout the northwest and the east asking for particulars of the puzzling case.

NEW AND WORK ARE SWORN IN

Washington—Harry S. New who completed a six year term, as United States senator from Indiana Sunday took the oath of office Monday as the forty-ninth postmaster general of the United States. He succeeded Hubert Work of Colorado, who was promoted by President Harding to be secretary of the interior in place of Albert B. Fall of New Mexico, resigned. Dr. Work witnessed the swearing in of the new postmaster then went immediately to the department of the interior where he was sworn in as head of that department. He is the twenty-eighth secretary of the interior. At the war department Dwight P. Davis, St. Louis, was formally inducted into office as assistant secretary and a short time before Secretary Davis left for a vacation of two or three weeks at St. Augustine, Fla.

Representative Ellet Wainwright, Mr. Davis's predecessor, will remain in the new assistant secretary in the war department for a few days to aid him in lining up affairs.

25 ARE INJURED IN TRAIN SMASHUP

Columbus — Twenty-five persons, the majority of whom are from Columbus and Port Denning, were injured, none seriously when Central Georgia passenger train No. 3 was wrecked near Mizell station at 5:45 Monday morning.

A broken rail caused the derailment it was stated.

Tramps U. S. To Prove Generosity Story True

Bareheaded, without a cent in his pocket or a coat on his back, Leonard Day, author and newspaper man, arrived in Appleton Saturday afternoon on the home stretch of what is probably the most unique journey in the world.

There have been globe trotters and transcontinental hikers before him, all settling some wager, but they were quite differently situated than the man who is at present receiving the hospitality of Appleton persons.

He is on the return trip of his 10,555-mile journey along the boundaries of the United States to prove that the American people are a generous and hospitable people. He left San Francisco on Nov. 20, 1921, walking all way of the Mexican borders, the Gulf coast, the Atlantic shores, and is now returning by way of the northern states. He has covered 7,280 miles since the beginning of his journey.

He is not without accepting any transportation of money.

DOUBTED HIS BOOK
Mr. Day had written a book entitled "The Unsolicited Generosity of the American People" which the publishers refused to accept on the grounds that many things described therein are impossible. To prove his contention, Day set out "hatless, coatless and penniless" on his 10,000 badges. He had walked 21½ miles Saturday, having started at Oshkosh at 9 o'clock and taking dinner in Neenah where he stayed from 1 to 3 o'clock.

With him was an Airedale dog, which answers to the name of Radio King. It is the fifth dog that has accompanied him on the long hike. The others were worn out on the way. The last dog was the gift of the firemen at Waukegan.

The dog and his walking cane are his only protection. The cane is a curiosity in itself. It is a cactus stick picked up in the Texas desert.

In all sorts of weather, cold, heat, rain, snow over the deserts of the west and through the swamps of the Gulf states and lastly over the snow-bound roads of Illinois and Wisconsin (—) this has been his journey.

TWO TEAMS READY IN C. OF C. RACE

Major's Expect To Complete
Visions For Meeting Tuesday Night

A. K. Ellis is the first major of the chamber of commerce membership campaign to complete his list of captains. Major R. E. Carnevese finished second, while Majors W. G. Commetz and Henry Reuter have partially completed their staffs.

All majors are working energetically to complete their organizations before the civic dinner which is to be held at 615 next Monday evening in Elk hall where the annual chamber of commerce membership campaign will be formally opened.

Noted speakers and "pen" talkers, both outside and local, will give addresses at the dinner and complete instructions will be given all workers in the campaign.

A pre-campaign program is to be outlined at the meeting of captains which is to be held Tuesday evening in the chamber of commerce room.

Maj. Ellis' group of captains consists of the following: George H. Beckley, H. A. DeBauer, John Diederich, L. J. Marschall, H. A. Schlicht and Dr. J. H. Brooks.

Following are Maj. Carnevese's captains: L. Hugo Keller, John A. Landsdorf, E. R. Galpin, Rev. J. L. Menzner, Chris E. Mullen.

BOMB RIPS UP PART OF CAFE; DANCE KEEPS ON

Chicago — A momentary panic occurred among the patrons of the entertainers cafe in the black and tan district on the south side early Monday when a bomb was exploded at the entrance of the cabaret. The two toned atmosphere paled a little, the one of the proprietors mounted a table and reassured the guests that life and age had been done, the music started and the whirl began all over again.

The owners of the cafe said there was no reason for a bomb attack on the place. The damage, they said, would not exceed $500.

Washington Lawmakers Give Nation Vacation

Washington—The country Monday faced the now unaccommodated prospect of nine months without a session of congress. The Sixty-seventh congress has passed into history and incidentally with its four sessions, set a new record for future congresses to shoot in the extent of time actually spent in the legislative halls. The exodus of members and former members of the house and senate who trooped through the sessions was in full swing Monday while Washington was trying to accustom itself to the comparatively drab and prosaic life ahead.

Sine die adjournment came Sunday with the bang of the senate gavel sharply at noon and that of the house six minutes later after a brief final session lacking in thrills of the adjournment hours of some other congresses. The closing in the house had the usual colorful qualities of gavel.

PRESIDENTIAL PARTY STARTS ON VACATION

Mrs. Harding Hopes To Benefit
In Health From Southern Trip

By Associated Press
Washington — President Harding looked forward to his first vacation in nearly a year Monday on leaving Washington with Mrs. Harding and a party of friends to spend a month in Florida. Although no itinerary has been made public much of the vacation will be spent, it was understood, in a leisurely household cruise down the Halifax and Indian rivers with occasional stops at Florida coast resorts where the party will go ashore for golf.

For Mrs. Harding the trip means more than a change of scene and climate for her departure from the white house Monday to board the special train marks the first time she has gone outside the executive grounds since she became ill last September. Mrs. Harding was looking forward to the benefit expected from the trip toward restoring her health which has shown steady improvement for several months.

The adjournment of congress with the prospect of no session until December found the president's desk very clear. Disposal of all the more important appointments during the last days of congress, with the exception of a few additional federal judgeships, left only a few recess appointments necessary.

On the household in Florida waters the president's party will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. McLean, Washington. Secretary and Mrs. Weeks, who were among the party leaving here Monday will leave the train at St. Augustine, while former senator and Mrs. Pringlehausen of New Jersey, also going to Florida, was looking forward to the benefit expected from the trip toward restoring her health which has shown steady improvement for several months.

SUBPENAS SPOIL OFFICIALS' REST

Washington—Subpenas requiring the appearance in court here on Wednesday of Attorney General Daugherty chairman Lasker of the Paying board and John Barton Flynn, a former board chairman, all of whom had planned to leave Washington Monday with President Harding for Florida, were issued by the United States Marshall Monday morning at the request of Charles W. Morse, ship builder.

The subpoenas, were issued in connection with the wartime shipping contracts. Trial of the case is set for Wednesday and Mr. Morse's counsel asked that the three men named, among others, be brought to court as witnesses for the defense.

BABE RUTH RECOVERING FROM INFLUENZA ATTACK

New York—Babe Ruth, much improved after his battle with influenza, wants to go from Hot Springs Monday to the Yankees' training camp at New Orleans. His doctor, however, is dubious as to the advisability of the Babe's removal before Wednesday, according to dispatches.

BLOC IS SEEN

Much of the talk of the formation of a "continental" bloc abroad is being attributed to the fact that Great Britain and the United States by settling their debt difficulties have placed themselves on one side of the counter while France, Belgium, Italy and some of the small countries of Central Europe have been thrown together as debtors with a common object—reduction of the amounts owed.

While no such formidable name as "continental" bloc has been used heretofore, there is nevertheless no denying the fact that for many months certain of the continental powers have been acting together more or less against their two biggest creditors, Great Britain and the United States.

As for any plan for the reduction of the debt owed to the United States by continental powers, no scheme of any sort will be proposed as a bait for settling the Ruhr dispute. Hopes of that kind are futile. Secretary Hughes has remained at his post because some developments in the European situation are inevitable in the next month or so. He will meet the situation as it arises consulting by telegram with a common object in Florida and while America stands ready to enter into the conversation in the hope of effecting a settlement, it would not be in the least displeasing if Great Britain could undertake mediation of her own initiative or even if France and Germany could get together directly.

Waiting For Wink From Paris Before Taking Any Action

REMAINS IN WASHINGTON

Trip To South America Is Postponed For This Reason

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923 by The Post Pub. Co.
Washington — Although President Harding sees nothing at the moment that might carry the United States into the Ruhr situation, the recurrence of rumors to that effect is not without plausible origin.

Any statement of what the government will do can be applied only to 24 hour periods for the situation not only may change at any minute but there is more than a vague expectation that it will.

Secretary Hughes did not abandon his proposed trip to the Pan-American conference in South America because of any sudden increase in the activities of the department of state. All things considered he is in a much better position to detach himself now from the routine of the department of state than he was on the occasion of his previous voyage to Rio De Janeiro, last year.

It would, of course, have looked a bit easy going if with President Harding bound for Florida for a month the secretary of state had also gone away to South America but the reason for the abandonment of Mr. Hughes' journey goes deeper than the public impression which might be produced by the absence from the national capital of its two most important administrative officers especially with both houses of congress adjourned for nine months.

The truth is that mediation by diplomacy is inevitable. Government officials are no more aware of what the process will be than is the general public but it takes no extraordinary power of analysis to assume that the Ruhr situation will not go on indefinitely and that somehow it must be composed through the friendly offices of outside powers.

NEEDED IN WASHINGTON

President Harding and Secretary Hughes have been planning the American ambassadors to London, Paris and Berlin that the United States will not intrude, will not make a move which can be construed as undue interference but will wait for a propitious moment who no possible antagonism can result from America's aims at helpfulness. Remembering the bitter feeling which was engendered in America when Great Britain recognized the belligerency of the confederacy, remembering the resentment of efforts to mediate before the United States had a chance to make effective war on Spain and recalling the recent manifestations of hostility toward America in the allied countries during the first two years of the war, every time a peace note was sent by the Washington government there is no disposition to "butt into European matters."

DON'T WANT TO "BUTT IN"

This has been the policy for several weeks but it may be changed any day by some hint or indication from France that a diplomatic settlement would be welcomed. Officials here feel, of course, that Great Britain is much closer to the situation than is America and that when the proper moment for mediation comes the British will ask the United States to cooperate. There is continually of course, the thought in the minds of European statesmen that accompanying any offer of mediation should be some definite expression on the part of Great Britain as well as the United States as to what will be done by these two on the subject of cancelling or reducing the war debt of the continental powers.

EXPECT 2,000 AT ROTARY CONCLAVE

State Convention Opens in Milwaukee March 15 with Elaborate Program

Between 1,500 and 2,000 members will attend the conference of the tenth district Rotary clubs in Milwaukee Thursday and Friday, March 15 and 16. Nine clubs from the upper peninsula of Michigan and 27 from Wisconsin will be represented by delegates. Sessions will be held at the auditorium.

All of the railroads leading to Milwaukee will give fare and one-half round trip privileges to Rotarians attending the conference. There will be a banquet, reception and ball on the evening of March 15. The evening of the delegates will be entertained at a theater party during the afternoon. Boy scouts will act as guides to visiting delegates.

The program committee, under the direction of Herbert N. Jahn, president of the Milwaukee Rotary club, is negotiating with several noted men as speakers at the conference.

HUSBAND'S DEBTS RUINED WEDLOCK

Fond du Lac—Her husband's debts and the resultant constant demand of his creditors for money completely ruined her married life, according to Mrs. Ruth Ford and as a result she was granted a divorce in county court from Harry Ford. The couple was married in May, 1922.

Mrs. Ford charges that her husband tricked her into matrimony by misrepresenting his financial condition. Immediately after their marriage, she testified, she found that her husband was harassed by creditors in this and other cities and the continual bombardment of demands for money and calls subjected her to humiliation and embarrassment. Further than that, she declared, he never provided a home and they had to live with her parents.

As a further ground for divorce the plaintiff charged a cruel and uncongenial disposition.

I SPIED TODAY

FUN FOR THE WORKMEN

Friday afternoon at 2:45 our attention was drawn to a tall blond young lady and a medium sized dark haired young man, who were strolling along the John-st. hill.

On reaching the bridge, they turned to the left, and went along the railroad trestle. She pretended to be rather timid, and afraid to cross, but reluctantly started to walk along, after being supported and continually reassured by her escort. On reaching the center of the trestle, she absolutely refused to move another inch, and the young man, after much urging, as a last resort, was compelled to carry her about fifty feet.

When he disposed of his burden, she threw both arms around his neck and began kissing him in a manner seldom equaled and never excelled, even by Rodolph Valentino himself. We counted to fifty and the end was not yet; and they continued this action until it attracted the attention of a crowd of interlake workers across the river who appreciated the gratis movie exhibition and gave vent to their appreciation in a very loud and boisterous manner.

Undaunted by her audience, the lady (I) seemed to be anxious to continue this performance, and made another lunge at her companion, who not being as bold as she was, seemed to prefer to stage a "fade away."

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT

Sunday I spied the policeman and fireman sitting in their chairs on the corner of the walk. This is a sure sign of spring.

IT STILL TASTED GOOD

About 3:30 Friday afternoon, I saw two little boys coming from Bartman's store on Pacific street. One little boy had a loaf of bread, and both had ice cream cones.

When the little boy with the bread reached the corner, he slipped, and the bread and ice cream fell in a puddle of water, but he still held the cone and began to cry.

The other little boy came to his rescue, and picked up the ice cream, put it on the cone and both went on their way, eating their ice cream.

A REAL OPTIMIST

Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, I spied a young lady at the corner of State and Atlantic street getting an impromptu mud bath, a large truck being the cause of the shower. The lady was so much to behold, her face and coat much bespattered, but she must have been an optimist because she smiled as she walked on.

EMBARRASSING PURCHASE

Friday evening I stopped in a local fruit store to buy a cigar. We were standing near the cigar case and noticed two young ladies about 21 years of age shrily eyeing the proprietor and then us. Finally it was their turn to be waited upon while we watched and waited.

The proprietor sold them a package of cigarettes and they sneakily left the store.

STINGY THING

Friday night about 8:30 I noticed three girls standing near Downer's west end pharmacy talking to a young man. They all talked together but the boy seemed more interested in one girl than the other two. Before departure he kissed the one he had been talking to. He might have been more generous because the other two walked away downhearted.

NOR TROUSERS EITHER

Dressed in knickers, I was returning from a hike, along John street Friday. Near the factories I met a woman and her daughter. They looked at me in disgust.

As I met them the woman spoke "The Bible teaches us how to dress and it don't say to wear knickers!"

ORATORICAL TREAT

I spied a thrilling, and what might have been a serious motor collision, Friday, March 2, at 5 p. m. A Ford coupe, going south on Oneida-st and a small Ford delivery truck, going east on North-st—both going about 15 miles an hour—became intimately acquainted, both drivers admitting that neither saw the other as a result of a mutual "brown study." The net result was a ruined right fender for Mr. Coupe, and a slightly damaged left fender and bent tie-rod for Mr. Truck—plus much catrory as to who was to blame. Difference of opinion—appropriately expressed in always great fun for eye-witnesses to automobile accidents.

DEToured PEDESTRIANS

The caretaker in the City Park did his duty as a human detour sign late Friday afternoon. The catchbasin near the pump was not functioning properly and as a result the walk for a hundred feet or more resembled a small lake. When the water reached a depth of several inches the caretaker stationed himself at the upper end to warn pedestrians.

THE CROWD GRINNED

Friday on Washington-st between Lawe and Meads-sts, a young man loaded with parcels was riding a bicycle at a moderate rate of speed. He hit a stone. His bundles flew all over the street and he went over the handle bars. The man got up rubbing his arm.

He picked up his bundles as a grinning crowd gathered around him.

Dear Editor

(The Gar Life of Truck Drivers)
Saturday at 1:30 I saw near the Lakeside Paper Mill at Neenah an Ideal Lumber & Coal Co. truck of Appleton backing in by the coal piles with a load of brick. Suddenly one side of the truck sank in above the wheels and the driver made a leap for safety. He began to unload the brick, but in a short time quite a lot of men from the mill, eager to help had gathered. They brought several jacks from the mill with a lot of planking and they asked a boy who lived nearby if he would pull them out. They soon had the horses hitched on but they were too strong and broke the whiffletree. After a little arguing some men brought a block and tackle and attached this to some trestle-work and with one strong horse on the rope, pulled the truck out in short order. But had luck was with the driver. While trying to crank the truck the set screws on the crankshaft broke, but one of the men from the mill came to the rescue pounding it together enough to start it, with a big piece of concrete. The truck started back to Appleton around 4:30. Yours for a ticket.

LIKE TO READ OF GREAT PIANIST

"Leschetizky—As I Knew Him" is Book Demanded by Many at Library

One of the most popular nonfiction books at Appleton public library last week was "Leschetizky—As I Knew Him" by Ethel Newcomb. The author was for many years a pupil and then assistant to Leschetizky, and this constant association with him gave her exceptional opportunities for seeing him in all his moods, eccentric and lovingly reverent for his art, contemptuous of laziness or sham, generous and warm hearted.

The story of this famous musician, known as the world's greatest teacher of great pianists is here shown intimately by one of his favorite pupils. All music lovers will find a surprisingly interesting this remarkably successful delineation of the teacher of Paderewski, Gubrilowitsch, Fannie Bloomfield-Zeisler and others. Largely by direct quotation from Leschetizky himself is this accomplished and his methods or teaching, his firmly held beliefs on musical matters and his relations with other distinguished musicians are portrayed. In fact the

PUPPIES BURIED AS DEAD SCRAMBLE OUT OF GRAVE

By Associated Press
Sturgeon Bay — After carefully burying six "dead" pups, which had died from the results of exposure shortly after birth, in a pile of barnyard fertilizer, the son of B. Haen, Sturgeon Bay, was surprised the following day to hear a noise from the intended burial ground. Upon investigation, it was found that three of the puppies were alive, each scrambling out, one after another from the refuse pile.

master and the man in a fully rounded portrayal make this book of prime importance and fascination. "Etiquette" by Emily Post is the second nonfiction number which has been in greatest demand. All etiquette books have been popular and, according to the librarians, they have had the biggest run experienced in years.

"The Days of Poor Richard" by Bacheller is one of the most popular fiction books, again this week. Last week it was featured as the one in greatest demand. The other numbers are "Forsyte Saga" by Galsworthy and "The Cathedral" by Waipole.

Attorney J. L. Johns, who has been on a business trip to St. Louis and Kansas City for several days, is expected home Tuesday.

Grip Left You a Bad Back?

DOES your back ache day after day, with a dull, unceasing throb? Are you worn-out, and discouraged ready to "give up"? Then why not look to your kidneys? Chances are a cold or a chill has weakened your kidneys? Poisons have accumulated that well kidneys would filter off. It's little wonder, then, you have constant backache, headaches, dizzy spells, annoying bladder irregularities, and sharp, rheumatic twinges—that you feel nervous, "blue" and irritable. Don't wait for serious kidney trouble. Get back your health while you can. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

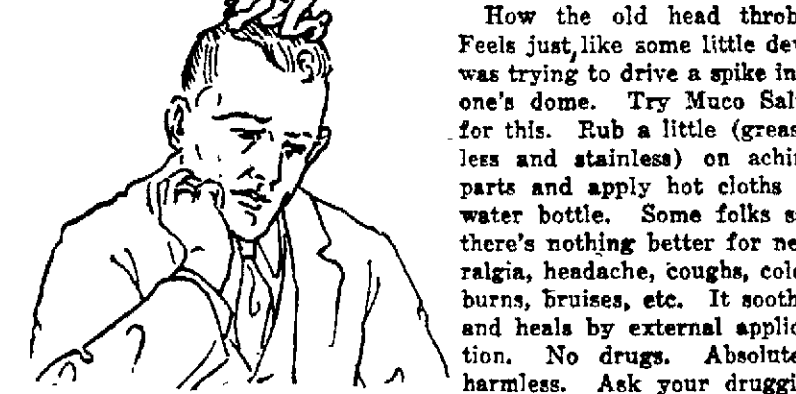

"Use Doan's," Say These Appleton Folks

Albert McAllister, retired farmer, 1025 Oneida-st, says: "I was bothered with backache, and when I stooped over I couldn't straighten up. Sharp pains bothered me constantly and made it hard for me to do anything. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and in three days' time the backache had disappeared and I could do my work as well as ever."

Mrs. Ed. Koletzke, 929 Lawrence-st, says: "I suffered greatly with a lame back and pains across my loins. My kidneys didn't act regularly at all. The use of Doan's Kidney Pills regulated my kidneys, relieved me of the backaches and pains and benefited me in every way. My faith in Doan's is unbounded."

The channel of the creek is to be changed by the new bridge and considerable inconvenience is being caused by high water at this time.

PROMISE ARREST FOR TAMPERING WITH ARMORY

After every basketball game and public entertainment in Armory G the locks on the rear doors, which are the fire exits, have been tampered with and have to be repaired according to Capt. Ivaux F. Millar, of the 127th Infantry of the Wisconsin National Guard. In a warning which Captain Millar has issued it is stated that any more tampering with locks on the armory doors will be considered breaking into a federal building and arrests will follow.

Capt. Millar said there has been considerable trouble with boys who pry open the fire exit doors with a pipe in order that they may get into basketball games and other events without cost. They also climb up onto the roof in order to see the contests. Capt. Millar says that these practices must stop and that every offender will be taken into court.

JOURNALIST FRAT TO HAVE NATIONAL CONVENTION HERE

Pi Delta Epsilon Members Will Open Sessions Here On Friday

Alpha Beta chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, will be host to the national convention of the organization at Lawrence college on March 9, 10 and 11. It is expected that 40 student and alumni members will be present at the sessions.

The program of speakers has not been received from the grand council by the host chapter, but the social features which have been planned begin with a smoker and get acquainted meeting for members only on Friday evening at one of the fraternity houses. The meeting of the grand council will take place in Chicago on that evening because some of the members of the council will not be able to come to Appleton.

Business session on Saturday morning will probably include a discussion of the expansion policy of the fraternity in regard to small schools. There is a movement on foot within the group to exclude smaller institutions where there are no departments of journalism. After a luncheon at noon, the business sessions will be continued. A banquet for the members will be followed by a dance given for the members and friends by the grand council. The remaining sessions of the convention will take place on Sunday.

19 PLACES REMIT TAXES TO COUNTY

Nineteen of the city, village and town treasurers, have settled with Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, county treasurer, for the amounts of state taxes levied upon their corporations. The total amount received was $71,000.52. Twelve municipalities still remained to be heard from. Monday is the last day for settling.

MOTT "Y" ADDRESS TO BE BROADCASTED ON MONDAY

The address to be delivered by John R. Mott at the Y. M. C. A. institute at Milwaukee at 7 o'clock Monday evening is to be broadcasted by radio from Gimbel station and arrangements are being made to receive it at Schlafer Hardware Company's store and at several other places in Appleton. Musical numbers to be broadcasted at the Milwaukee banquet by Pink Jubilee Singers also will be broadcasted.

FIRE GAINS START IN WIRE WORKS CHARCOAL

Spontaneous combustion is believed to have been responsible for the fire that started in the charcoal bin of Appleton Wire Works shortly after noon Friday. The firemen dug down to the bottom of the pile where the fire started and extinguished the blaze before any large damage was caused.

"Y" MEN ARE ATTENDING MILWAUKEE INSTITUTE

About a dozen Appleton people are attending the Y. M. C. A. institute at Milwaukee Monday which is conducted by John R. Mott, head of the Y. M. C. A. in North America, and a corps of experts. The Y. M. C. A. secretaries attending include George F. Werner, C. L. Boynton, and J. E. Dennison.

Building Soon Ready

The First Trust company of Appleton expects to occupy its new quarters immediately west of the First National bank by the middle of April. The finishing touches are now being put on the interior. The company has outgrown its present quarters and will have more than double its present floor space in its new building.

She's First Women In U.S. On Field Tax Work

That women are asserting themselves in political offices as well as in politics is again made clear with the deputy on temporary duty at the local internal revenue office of the federal government.

The only woman deputy revenue agent in Wisconsin and the first woman to be appointed field agent—that's Miss Ethel M. Hillburg, who has located herself in the city hall ready to listen to the troubles of federal income taxpayers.

Uncle Sam has begun only recently to select his employees from the field of feminine workers for this kind of work, and to Miss Hillburg fell the lot and the distinction of being the first of her sex to be entrusted with the office she holds.

Miss Hillburg received her appointment last July and was assigned to the Milwaukee district office. A short time later two other women were appointed as revenue agents, but as far as is known she is the only one doing field work.

The advantage of choosing women for this work is obvious. More than one man who received a gentle notice from "E. M. Hillburg," as the local agent signs herself, and stormed to the revenue office to tell the agent something "for his own good," was cowed when he found the agent a woman. Handling an alleged delinquent taxpayer when he is on his mettle is not an attractive job, but to Miss Hillburg it is all in the day's work.

THREE AT OPENING OF FONDY HOTEL

A large delegation of hotel men from Wisconsin cities attended the opening of Hotel Retlaw in Fond du Lac on Friday and Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ender of Conway hotel were present on Friday and T. L. Held of Hotel Appleton was present on Saturday.

The building is a beautiful one and the appointments are up-to-date in every way. There is a large dining room and several small ones for private parties. The Fond du Lac Commonwealth set out a special edition of the paper in honor of the opening of the hotel on Friday.

Two big social events took place in connection with the opening, an informal dinner-dance on Friday evening and a formal one on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mayer of Wrightstown called on Appleton friends Saturday.

Third Generation is Using Syrup Pepsin

No other Laxative can replace Dr. Caldwell's in the confidence of those who use it

THERE are thousands of healthy, robust young men and women who have never in all their lives taken any other laxative for constipation than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Their parents were given it by their parents; the grandparents are using it today. It is the one laxative ideally suited to all the family, safe for the little ones, effective in grownups, so compounded that elderly people, who are constantly forced to take a laxative because the intestinal muscles are weakening, find increased dosage unnecessary. This wonderful constipation remedy has been used continuously for 30 years, and over 10 million bottles are now sold annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world. The cost averages but a cent a dose. Every druggist sells it, and under a guarantee to do as claimed or your money will be refunded.

Millions of carefully conducted homes are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

Mr. J. B. Belk of Shaw, Miss., relies on it entirely to keep his children in health, and Mrs. Catherine Connolly of Jersey City, N. J., declares that not only herself but all her neighbors and friends use it and tell others about it. There is scarcely a day that someone in a family does not need it for constipation, flatulency, auto-intoxication, biliousness, intestinal poisoning, headaches, colic and cramps, and to break up fevers and colds.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically-balanced compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. The formula is on the package. As the popularity of this natural vegetable laxative increases, the public discards the harsher physics like calomel, castor oil in candy form, salt waters and powders. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin empties the bowels more cleanly and without any danger.

Bauer Has New Ideas In Music

Master Pianist Who Appears Tuesday Doing Much Good For Piano Pupils

Scales, the bugbear of all beginners in piano music, are also the bugbear of Harold Bauer, master pianist, who will give a program at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Tuesday evening in the Community Lecture and Artist series. Mr. Bauer advocates in his teaching method that scales be abolished in teaching until the pupil himself finds need for them and wants to play them. He practices scales a great deal now.

Mr. Bauer was an accomplished violinist when he went to Paris at the age of 20, but he found that he could earn his living more easily by playing piano than violin. He had no technique and did everything the way it seemed easiest for him and because he was a musician to the fingertips, he succeeded.

"The first thing for a student to learn," says Mr. Bauer, "is rhythm and self-expression. He should dance and sing before he ever touches an instrument. He should learn to express himself through gestures and voice. Singing is a vast help in learning correct phrasing. The child will learn that the true phrase should last as long as the breath required for its delivery. I would never start a child's actual lessons with scales. There are plenty of fine things that are simple enough for beginners. If he likes the thing he is playing, he will soon want to remedy the spots in which he cannot produce a good effect. He will in that way acquire technique. Of course, that means that he must have some definite ideas as to what the music means some imaginative picture of it or how it ought to sound. That can only be acquired if his imagination has been stirred along musical lines before he comes to the piano."

CHURCH SOCIETIES

The Sunday School Teachers club of the Presbyterian church will have a 6:30 supper in the church Tuesday evening. The husbands or wives of the active members will be guests.

LOOS IN 6TH WARD ALDERMANIC RACE

Will Oppose Beske, Incumbent, and Fiedler, Former Council Member

The election contest in the Sixth ward has become more tense with the entry of a third candidate in the race for nomination as alderman of that ward. The third aspirant from that political unit is George Loos, Appleton-st. harness shop proprietor and prominent poultry fancier. Mr. Loos has as rivals Alderman H. R. Beske, president of the common council, who is running for reelection, and former Alderman J. H. Fiedler, who was defeated at the polls last spring by Alderman Walter J. Schultz.

Nomination papers were filed by Mr. Loos Monday morning. Other candidates who filed their papers Monday morning were Alderman Charles Fosse of the Fifth ward and Alderman C. F. Smith of the Third ward. Wednesday will be the last day on which to file nomination papers with the city clerk.

OUR WET WASH SERVICE IS FOR YOUR CONVENIENCE

Use it now. You can — Many of your friends and neighbors have adopted this sensible way of washing. Every Week they have us call for their family bundle. The 15 minutes or so spent in gathering up the washing is all that remains of the tiring old time wash day.

We wash with rainsoft water, and pure mild soap, extract all of the excess moisture, and return things damp, ready to be starched and ironed or hung out on the line—

And the cost of this splendid service is very reasonable — in addition to the elimination of all the hard drudgery of washday.

RAISING SUGAR BEETS IS MAKING CASH FOR FARMERS

Return Is Excellent And Soil Is Prepared For Small Grain Crops

BY W. F. WINSEY
Sugar beet raising in the south half of Outagamie county is rapidly developing into an industry important to those directly connected with it and the people as a whole.
As the soil in this section is admirably adapted to the growth of such beets and the yield and price of beets insures a generous financial return on the land investment and the labor expended in the cultivation of beets, sugar beet growers not only continue in the business from year to year but also induce their neighbors to give the industry a try. And again farmers have discovered for themselves that instead of reducing the fertility of the soil a crop of sugar beets with the intensive cultivation required actually supplies the elements needed by a succeeding bumper crop of small grain. These are a few of the reasons for the growing popularity of the sugar beet among farmers in this vicinity.

AVERAGE INCREASE

In the territory under consideration the Green Bay Sugar Beet Co. has beet leading stations established in Little Chute, Kimberly and Greenville. If no more of these stations be taken now and the time of planting which is impossible 215 acres of beets an increase over last year of 67 acres will be unloaded next fall at the Little Chute station. 3 acres an increase over last year of 163 acres at the Kimberly station and 125 acres in increase of 90 per cent at the Greenville station. The prospect of increasing this acreage before planting time however is exceedingly encouraging.

The price per ton of beets guaranteed to the producer by the company for next season's crop is $6.25. But the contract is so worded that if the present price of sugar prevails at the time of the delivery of beets the farmer will receive $10.00 per ton for his crop. As the average yield per acre of sugar beets in this vicinity is 10 tons per acre the beet grower present prices of sugar continuing can bank upon a gross income next fall from his beet crop per acre of $100.

WORKERS ENGAGED

But from this income must be deducted $23.00 per acre the cost of labor for cultivation supplied by the company if desired including picking the beets, thinning, twice hoeing and finally pulling and topping.

The beet workers to cultivate and harvest the 1923 crop have already been engaged by the company.

It is expected by the company and prospective beet raisers that the price of sugar at the time of delivery of the next crop of sugar beets will be the same as now or not higher.

BEAR CREEK WILL HAVE ELECTRICITY WITHIN TEN DAYS

Weather and Lack of Materials Have Delayed Village Power Project

Special to Post-Crescent
Bear Creek—Electric light and power will be furnished the village of Bear Creek for the first time within ten days if workmen receive the necessary material so they can complete the circuits according to Mr. Cornwell of New London who has charge of construction of the lines.
It was expected that the work would be completed by Feb. 15 according to contract but storms and cold weather caused delays. The contractors also are awaiting a shipment of street light material which prevents the finishing of the project.
A number of homes have been wired and equipped so that they will enjoy electric lights as soon as the current is switched on. The villagers are eager to make use of this convenience, both in their homes and in illumination of the streets.
The feed wires have been built in the village from New London. The power is received at the New London plant from Appleton and resold to the village of Bear Creek.

TICKETS ON SALE FOR H. S. OPERETTA

Production Will Be Offered Two Evenings to Give Everyone a Chance

Kaukauna—Tickets for the operetta "The Gypsy Rover" will be presented in the high school Friday and Saturday evenings. The auditorium will be reserved all week at 10 o'clock on the south side and at 8 o'clock on the north side. Rehearsals for the play are being held almost daily under the direction of Miss Florence Kolm, supervisor of music in the local schools.
Indications are that the operetta will surpass those presented the last two years. It will be offered 2 nights. Last year a few hundred people were turned away at the door after the auditorium had been filled to capacity. A children's matinee and final rehearsal will be held Thursday afternoon at about 4 o'clock. An augmented high school orchestra will furnish music for the occasion.

DANCE RECORD IS KEEPING IN LEAD

Kaukauna—Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean came back. This dance record in practically every make of record is in great demand in this city. It has been hard to keep stocked with that particular number. SMALL FIRE

Kaukauna—A fire on the roof of the foundry at the Moloch plant caused sparks from the melting furnace brought out the fire department about 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. It was the first call since the new truck was initiated two weeks ago. Very little damage resulted from the flames.

You say: "I can't afford it!" If you are too poor to save how bitterly will poverty strike home to your widow and children when you are taken away?

If you brought up to business habits, and save, what are the chances of your wife making a living alone when you are gone?

A little self-denial however on things you really don't need will pay for a policy of insurance with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for a substantial amount.

Dated March 1st, 1923.
Due Serially—$100,000 each year from March 1, 1928 to March 1st, 1942.
Interest payable March 1st and September 1st at Milwaukee, Wis., without deduction for Normal Federal Income Tax, not in excess of 2%.
Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1000., $500, and $100; registrable as to principal.
First Wisconsin Trust Company of Milwaukee, Wis., and Guy O. Babcock of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., Trustees
Callable at the option of the Company in whole or in part on any interest date upon 30 days' notice, by paying the principal thereof and a premium of 1/2 of 1% for each year or fractional part thereof from the call date to fixed maturity of bonds, provided however, that in no event, shall the call price be greater than 105. The trust deed will provide that no dividends can be paid which will reduce capital surplus and profits below $7,000,000.
Net average annual earnings of the company for the past 12 years have been over $400,000—over 3 1/2 times interest upon all bonds, including present issue.

The Nekoosa-Edwards Paper Company has a present capital, surplus, and undivided profits of over $7,000,000. The Company has outstanding $383,000 of bonds—$86,500 of which are known as Centralia bonds, due serially from 1923 to 1930, and $297,000 of Nekoosa-Edwards bonds, due 1928.

The Company has authorized an issue of $3,000,000 bonds; $1,500,000 of which is to be known as Series "A," and is to be presently issued; $400,000 of this issue is to be deposited with the trustee to insure payment or exchange for bonds outstanding. The balance of the above issue is to be sold, and the proceeds thereof used for new machinery, which will materially increase plant capacity, provide additional working capital and to be applied to returning outstanding current obligations.

Said Mortgage bonds shall be secured by a first lien upon all the fixed property of the company, located in Wood County, Wis., now owned or hereafter acquired, subject only to the prior lien of $383,000 above referred to, provided however, that the properties owned by the Paper Company, and known as village lots for building purposes, shall not be included in the properties upon which a lien is given to secure bonds issued.

From a letter of the President, we have obtained the following information:
The Company's paper machines now produce 140 tons of finished paper daily, with an investment of little over $7,000,000. By installing new machinery, the production can be increased to 200 tons per day, and production costs reduced from $3.50 to $4.00 per ton, increasing profits $390,000 annually.
The Company has an eight year run of the major part of the timber necessary, and an abundant additional supply of the same character of timber very near their mills.
They have about 22,000 hydraulic and hydro-electric horse power from eight to ten months of the year, and about 60 to 70% of that amount all the year around. These powers are in three groups, but all join together. One group is only 44% developed; another group 74%, and another 78%. The water powers are conservatively valued at over $1,700,000.
The mills are of the highest type of construction, and with all improvements, including what has been made on their water powers, represents a cost of nearly $10,000,000.
Their organization is very complete; each department is handled by strong efficient men. Sales under present production and prices are around $5,000,000 yearly. After new improvements, these should be increased more than 30%.

DEPLETED STOCKS OF LUMBER BRING SERIOUS PROBLEM

Mill Prices Continue To Stiffen
But Not With January Rapidity

Demand for lumber during February remained above normal, while production suffered seriously from inclement weather. In practically all important producing sections, says
the American Lumberman, Chicago.
The combined barometer of orders, production and shipments of the eight leading softwood manufacturing associations during the week ended
Feb. 17 showed bookings at 8 per cent above normal; output at 35 per cent below normal, and shipments at 12 per cent below the same standard.
Orders for southern pine during the week mentioned totaled 25 per cent above production, and those for Douglas fir were 88 per cent above output.
These figures give conclusive proof of gradual depletion of stocks that already has reached a really serious point, and of the heavily overbooked condition of the mills. This situation is making it very difficult for buyers to place orders, mills as a rule not being willing to commit themselves any further ahead and finding it necessary to decline a large per centage of the business offered them.

There would, undoubtedly, be many buyers in distress need of lumber at this time were it not for the fact that wholesalers are putting into transit large quantities of material which they bought some time ago, before the lumber shortage had reached its present acuteness and prices had mounted to their present levels.
These transit cars are moving into consumption steadily, and there does not appear to be any oversupply that might cause weakening of the market. Mill prices meanwhile continue to strengthen practically throughout the list, and though the upward movement is not nearly so rapid now as during January, due to the manufacturers' efforts to stabilize the market, it is difficult to foresee what levels will be attained if needs continue as heavy as they have been and the mills are not soon able to increase their production materially.
At present, snow, rains and floods are creating great difficulties for loggers and manufacturers on the west coast and throughout the south and southwest.

Demand for hardwoods remains very strong, and prices continue to show a pronounced upward tendency.
Dry stocks are almost impossible to find, and the movement of green lumber shows constant growth. Many northern manufacturers of both hardwoods and softwoods, who customarily do their logging in the winter, are contemplating putting in summer camps this year in view of the prospective enormous lumber consumption and the demand for logs from paper and pulp manufacturers and other industrial concerns.

consider himself or herself a personal representative of the company to the public, with the object of more intimately acquainting telephone users with its service.

As such representatives, Mr. Mc-Govern said all employees have been asked to report formally any suggestions or criticism that may be received from telephone users and to consider themselves directly responsible for the adjustment of the particular case they have registered.
"Under what we call our service booster ticket plan," said Mr. Mc-Govern, "all our employees are given the opportunity to continuously seek to satisfy the public and to help us provide as near perfect telephone service as is practicable."

"When any employee hears or receives a suggestion of grievance, he or she will fill out a ticket containing all the details. This ticket will be sent to the department concerned.
After adjustment of the case, the employee originating it as well as the employee registering it will be informed of the details of the disposition."

LEGION INITIATING MEMBERS TONIGHT

Initiation of a class of new members will take place at the monthly meeting of Oney Johnston post of the American Legion in Elk hall at 8 o'clock Monday night. It is expected that a large number of veterans will be present
to witness the ceremony.

The speaker of the evening will be James Green, an orator of ability, who will tell of the legion's place in building of the community. Entertainment and lunch will follow.

Flat Subdivision
Surveyors are busy replating the square tract of land north of Second, as purchased by H. G. Thomas which he expects to have ready to submit to the common council within the next two weeks. It is possible the lots will be placed on sale the latter part of the month.

HONORS DIVIDED IN RECORD SALES

"Who Did You Fool After All?"
Emerges into Popular
Class

A great number of phonograph record selections seem to have been popular during the last week at local music stores, according to the dealers, with no particular record standing out as being an extremely big hit.
"Mister Gallagher and Mister
Shean," "Chicago," "Open Your Arms
my Alabama" and "Who Did you Fool
After All," have been among the best.
"O Sole Mio" has been a good number and also "Dumb Bell." "Who Did You Fool After All?" has not appeared before among the best sellers.

According to one music dealer foreign instrumental numbers have been selling quite rapidly, some of the better of which are "Kukacka, Valek!"
and "Es por Ella."
The five best sellers at each of the record stores have been:
Victor—Molly Darling, Lyr. O. Sole
Mio, Kukacka, Valek!, Hungarian
Rhapsodie (Paderewski).
Columbia—Falling Way Down East
in Maine, Mister Gallagher and Mister Shean, Chicago, Rachen (Rosa Pomselle).
Edison—Chicago, Open Your Arms
my Alabama, When will I know, Sunny Jim, Souvenir (Spalding).
Okel—Teddy Bear Blues, Falling,
Save the Last Waltz for Me, Who Did You Fool After All?, Fuzzy Bird,
Brunswick—Runnin' Wild, Loose
Feet, Whoa Tilly, Don't Think You'll be Missed, The Flatterer (Chaminade).
Vocalion—Someone is Looking for
You, Open Your Arms my Alabama,
Down by the Old Apple Tree, Dumb
Bell, Mummy's Lullaby (Spross).

Victor—Mister Gallagher and Mister Shean, Who Did You Fool After
All, O Sole Mio, Dumb Bell, Killarney (Hans Kinder).

'LOVIN' SAM' GETS INTO PROMINENCE

Variety of Sheet Music Has Been in Demand During
Last Week

"Lovin' Sam" is the only number in sheet music which has been popular at more than one of the local music stores during last week. A wide variety of pieces has therefore been in demand but not any one extremely popular.
Lent seems to affect popular music sales.

The best sellers at each of the four music stores have been:
Carroll's Music Shop—Dumb Bell, Bees Knees, Little Rose, Carolina in the Morning, Jimbo Jambo.

Meyer-Seeger Music Co.—I Gave
You Up, Back Home and Broke,
Lovin' Sam, When the Leaves Come
Tumbling Down, Red Moon.
Irving Zuehlke—Crinoline Days,
Look for the Silver Lining, Open Your Arms my Alabama, Teddy Bear Blues,
Georgia, Cabin Door.

Miss S. E. Anderson—Lovin' Sam,
Fateema, My Old Hawaiian Home,
Mississippi Choo-Choo, I'm Through Shedding Tears over You.

You will be amazed to see how the use of "Bull" Durham will out down the cost of your smoking.

How is it possible to give you quality at the low cost of 10 cents for 50 cigarettes?

Here's one reason: The government tax alone on 50 machine-made cigarettes is 15 cents—5 CENTS MORE THAN THE COST OF 50 "BULL" DURHAM CIGARETTES TO YOU!

The average smoker saves $1 to $1.50 a week by "rolling his own" from "Bull"—or from $52 to $78 a year. This makes quite a Christmas fund—or pays for a fine trip.

A. A. L. OPENS NEW BUILDING TO THOUSANDS

Commendation Heaped On Officials By Public And Banquet Speakers

More than 3,000 persons attended the formal opening of the new building of the Aid Association for Lutherans Saturday afternoon and evening. There was a concert by the Artillery band on the fifth floor in the evening and the festivities closed with a banquet in Conway hotel.

Everything about the celebration savored of commendation of the association officials for the building up of this great organization, and of the Appleton people who had watched the erection of so splendid an office building. The thousands of Appleton people who had watched the city's first "skyscraper" rise to completion were more loud in their praise of the interior when they saw it, than with their previous pleasure at having so enhancing a structure in the business district.

The morning hours were devoted to a reception of out-of-town visitors, most of them directors and agents of the company. The crowds began coming in the afternoon and every floor held throngs in the evening. The two elevators were in motion constantly, taking people to the fifth floor, from where they walked down floor by floor to the basement, examining the rooms. The bowling alleys and refreshment parlor in the basement also presented a busy place. The building was lighted from top to bottom in the evening, including every room and the ornamental lights on the roof also were aglow.

MANY AT CONCERT
The accounting room occupying about half of the fifth floor housed the Artillery band, where a concert was in progress all evening. The room was packed most of the time. Friends of the building also had their offices open for inspection by the public. Officers and employees of the aid association conducted the people through the corridors, explaining features of the structure.

Decks of the association heads were profuse with bouquets of flowers sent in congratulation, by local and outside people and firms. These men also received a shower of telegrams from other insurance companies, bonding houses, Lutheran leaders, individuals and firms commending them on the building achievement.

One hundred thirty persons were seated at the banquet in the Venetian room of Conway hotel at 9 o'clock. The closing event of the celebration, G. D. Ziegler, president of the association was in charge, and introduced the toastmaster, the Rev. G. A. Ernst of St. Paul, Minn. An orchestra of Artillery band members furnished music.

EKERN ABSENT
The banquet guests included officers, directors, agents and employees of the aid association, and a number of Appleton business persons. All of the speakers were present as announced in the program except Hon. H. L. Ekern, Madison, attorney general. His place was filled by W. F. Fleckenstein of Menasha, Minn.

Mayor Henry Reuter gave the opening talk in which he expressed the praise of the city officials and the people of Appleton for the eminent structure which graces the business district as a monument to the enterprise of the association. A talk by Arthur G. Graef followed. As president of the chamber of commerce he told how that body appreciated the location of the office building here, and of the contribution its erection made to the business standing of the city.

The Rev. E. Benjamin Schluter of Oshkosh, in his address on "The Solid Building," compared the sturdy history office building to the aid association itself. He said the foundation of the association was as strong as that of the building and predicted a steady growth from this auspicious beginning.

FLECKENSTEIN SPEAKS
Mr. Fleckenstein referred to the praise heaped on the association through personal word, flowers and messages and termed this the ideal way of paying honor, rather than at the graves of prominent men after they are gone.

Another speaker was Otto C. Rontner of Chicago, who outlined some of the strong points of the association itself. Some interesting facts in the history of the association were given by B. E. Mayerhoff of St. Paul, Minn., one of the oldest agents in point of service. He voiced the sentiment of the field staff in poetry in his praise of Mr. Ziegler, Albert Voerks, executive secretary, and William J. Zuchelke, national treasurer. Dr. G. C. Hoyer, medical director, and others also gave short talks.

Directors who were here for the banquet were: C. F. Hohenstein, Batavia, Ill.; Otto C. Rontner, Chicago; J. W. Grube, Hilbert; J. P. Schottler, Appleton; E. R. Schneider, Green Bay; Henry Hegner, Appleton; Albert Dehne, Chicago; Alex. O. Benz, Fond du Lac; William F. Kelm, St. Paul; C. J. Schulz, Saginaw; Mich. Robert A. Plog, Milwaukee; E. C. Toebebohn, St. Louis; A. H. Scheumann, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Henry Kahner, St. Paul, Minn.

Among the visiting agents were: E. W. Gradoski, Racine; Martin Weller, Oshkosh; Fred Brandt, Chicago; William E. Hoffman, Illinois; A. F. Groder, Minneapolis; H. L. Gerlach, Sturgeon Bay; Emil Schroeter, Chicago; J. P. Kirsch, Chicago, and Max Fiebert, Chicago. W. F. Chambers of Wisconsin Engineering company, Wausau, contractors, also was present.

The aid association employees who were guests included: Louis Freude, Earl Kraemer, Elsie Ehke, Laura Schulz, Martha Lueck, Mrs. G. H. now, Hilda Adams, Martha Leisnering.

RADIO OF MIND IS BELIEVED TO FORM TIE OF TWIN GIRLS

Sisters Living Far Apart Are Interesting Study For Scientists

Tucson, Ariz. — A thin, unseen psychic thread of a material science cannot analyze, stretching across hundreds of miles of cities, rivers and mountains.

For 30 years has bound together twin sisters, separated almost since their birth.

The twins are Mrs. Jessie Sanders, who lives here, and Miss Bessie M. Little of Chicago.

These twins have grown up under entirely different environments, have had different types of education and experience, have been entirely out of contact with each other.

Yet they have remained similar in appearance, mental traits, tastes, habits and ideals.

When one is ill, the other seems always to share her suffering. When one is happy, her elation is passed on through the invisible ethereal cord to the other.

The strange case has aroused the interest not only of students of heredity and environment but also that of believers in mental telepathy—radio of the mind.

Here is their story:

The twins were born to the Irwin family in the Black Hills. The mother died. The twins were given out for adoption when eight months old.

They never saw each other or even exchanged a letter till 18. Since then they've been together two months in 1911, two months in 1913 and six months in 1914.

Bess' foster parents moved to Helena, Mont. There she attended public school, business college and went to work in an office. She went to New York as a secretary, served in the offices of the food administrator, Washington, and went to France as a clerical employee of the Red Cross. She's now house manager of a Chicago hotel. She's unmarried.

Jessie, the other twin, went to country school, started training as a hospital nurse, suffered a physical breakdown, taught school, became a wife and mother. Now she's again teaching.

Those careers couldn't be much more dissimilar.

"It's uncanny how we seem to be bound together by an invisible link," says Jessie here.

"When one of us is ill, we expect word of the other's illness—and almost always get it."

"We always seem to do identical things at the same time. For instance, recently we both had our hair bobbed, each without the other's knowledge."

"We both favor history, social study and politics. We both dislike mathematics."

Bessie:

"Friends find the twins' voices indistinguishable."

Both are the same height and weight.

"They can wear each others' clothes."

Both suffer from weak lungs.

So, what counts most—hereditary or environment?

mile journey, accepting no money or rides and soliciting nothing more than a glass of water or a match on the way. He is permitted to accept food, shelter and clothing, provided it is given him unsolicited.

During his unique journey the traveler has gone without meals only 33 times. Since leaving San Antonio he slept outdoors only three times. But he has refused an average of $1 for every mile he has traveled. He has turned down as many as 134 offers in one day. His longest day's walk was 36½ miles. The shortest was two miles, made short by being stopped so often on the way.

Mr. Day carries with him packs of newspaper clippings with cuts of himself, his dog, cane and his many firemen badge decorations. He is also required to keep a daily record of all gifts he receives, together with the signatures of the donors, for purposes of verification.

Speaking of his experiences, Mr. Day said that the south was the most skeptical of all and that the minute he reached New York and the north states he received the best of treatment. His worst trip was a three-day tramp through the Yuma desert, covering 20 miles the first day, 17 the second and 14 the third. His worst experience was in the waste lands of Texas where he went 60 hours without food and saw no house for 73 miles. He fought off the coyotes with "Old Bill," the walking stick. He has been sick only three times on the way, and in each case it was due to impure water.

He is 43 years old, measures 5 feet 2 inches and weighs 175 pounds. After he first started he began to lose weight. In due time the loss of flesh was replaced with muscle. When he was in Pond du Lac last week he was fitted out with a complete outfit of clothes by interested residents. While in Appleton he is the protégé of Chief George P. McGillen of the fire department who has also presented him with a badge.

Monday afternoon Mr. Day gave an address before the St. Elizabeth club at Forester hall. He is to speak also at several other gatherings here.

BIRDS OF A FEATHER

Property Assessment May Be Increased Here To Meet State's Levy

An increased assessment of real estate is expected in Appleton this year. The Wisconsin tax commission's appraisal of Appleton general property was nearly $5,000,000 higher than the assessment made by A. C. Rule, city assessor, last year. His assessment amounted to $5 per cent of the figure given as the true value by the tax commission.

Appleton real estate was assessed last year at $18,650,390, whereas the valuation placed upon it by the tax commission and on which basis the commission levied its state tax was $22,850,390. The difference between the assessor's valuation of the total personal property and that of the commission is more than $1,000,000. The assessment was $5,316,825, the commission's figure, $6,320,766.

The chief item in the difference of the assessment of personal stock is the difference in the assessment of merchants' and manufacturers' stock. The tax commission having raised the local assessment more than $300,000. The commission's valuation was based on the merchants' and manufacturers' inventory as of Jan. 1, 1922. The chief item in the difference of the assessment of personal stock is the difference in the assessment of merchants' and manufacturers' stock. The tax commission having raised the local assessment more than $300,000. The commission's valuation was based on the merchants' and manufacturers' inventory as of Jan. 1, 1922. The Wisconsin tax commission's appraisal of Appleton general property was nearly $5,000,000 higher than the assessment made by A. C. Rule, city assessor, last year. His assessment amounted to $5 per cent of the figure given as the true value by the tax commission.

DEATHS

ROSE HILL

Funeral services for Miss Rose Hill, 17, daughter of Mrs. R. L. Hill of Onondaga were held at 9 o'clock Monday morning from St. Joseph church at Onondaga. Burial was made in the church cemetery.

Miss Hill died in Haskell, Kansas, Thursday evening and the body reached Onondaga Monday morning. She is survived by her mother, twin sisters and three brothers. Her father was Dr. R. L. Hill who lived at Onondaga until the time of his death several years ago.

MRS. A. SAEKER
Mrs. A. Saeker died at her home in Leeman Friday after a long illness. She is survived by her widower; one daughter, Mrs. Martin Olson, Leeman; one son, George, Woonsocket; four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the Methodist church at Black Creek where the body has been taken for burial.

WATSON FUNERAL

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Ellis Watson was held at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon from her home at 431 Hancock and was private. The services were in charge of the Rev. M. Turnbull of Milwaukee.

KING FUNERAL

Funeral services for Edward King, who died Friday were held at 3:30 Monday morning at Sacred Heart church. Interment was at St. Joseph cemetery.

BARNES FUNERAL

The body of Thomas Barnes, son of the late Lyman E. Barnes, who died of pneumonia at LaSalle, Ill., last Thursday arrived at Appleton Junction Saturday morning and was taken direct to Riverside cemetery where the interment took place. The services were in charge of the Rev. P. O. Keleher and the Rev. John McCoy of Kaukauna.

The body was accompanied to Appleton by Mrs. Lyman E. Barnes, Talcott Barnes, Col. and Mrs. Beals and several others, who returned home later in the day.

MRS. JANE M. MEYER

Mrs. Jane M. Meyer, 84, mother of Mrs. Otto W. Schaefer of Appleton, died in the hospital of Wisconsin Veterans Home, near Waupun, where she had been a patient for several years. She was buried Saturday afternoon in the Home cemetery after funeral services were held in the chapel of the veterans home, Chaplain Earl conducting the services.

Mrs. Meyer suffered a paralytic stroke which left her an invalid. Her husband, H. A. Meyer, who served as captain of the 28th Wisconsin infantry in the Civil War, died about 50 years ago at their home in Bascom. Mr. Schaefer and daughter Florence attended the funeral. Mrs. Schaefer was detained by illness.

JOSEPH STROEBE

Joseph Stroeb, 92, one of the oldest persons of Appleton and for 60 years an inhabitant of Stroeb Island, died Monday morning. He was born in Germany and emigrated first to Milwaukee and then to Kansas. He came to Appleton about 60 years ago. He is survived by three sons, Otto, Los Angeles; Harry and Frank, Appleton; three daughters, Mrs. W. A. Briggs, Wilmette, Ill.; Mrs. Herman Everts, Milwaukee; Mrs. E. E. Everts, Brandon, Canada. 15 grandchildren; 5 great grandchildren. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

MRS. JULIANA GRESSE
Mrs. Juliana Gresse, 85, mother of Albert Gresse, 334 E. Cook, New London, a city official of that place, died at her home at Birnamwood Sunday. Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning from the Albert Gresse home and at the Most Precious Blood church. Burial will be made in New London Catholic cemetery.

Mrs. Gresse was born in Germany and came to this country 55 years ago. She lived the entire time in Wisconsin. She is survived by 3 daughters, 2 sons, 26 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren.

CANADIAN WOMEN ARE SENTENCED TO DIE BY NOOSE

Only Executive Action Can Save Pair, Both Under Sentence For Murder

Special To Post-Crescent
Edmonton, Alberta.—This province within a few months may see two women strangled to death by an official noose to atone for murders of which they have been convicted.

Only executive clemency now can stay the hand of the hangman reaching forth for the lives of Mrs. Florence Lassandra and Mrs. Irene May Christensen, both imprisoned in Fort Saskatchewan jail under sentence of death.

Mrs. Lassandra found guilty of participation in the slaying of a constable, is scheduled to mount the gallows Feb. 21.

April 4 has been set as the execution date of Mrs. Christensen, convicted of shooting her husband to death.

PUBLIC INTEREST KEEN
Will executive clemency intervene?

That question is on all lips in northern Alberta. People are recalling that only four women have been hanged in the Dominion since its confederation.

In that time 21 women, not including the present two cases, have been found guilty of first degree murder. Executive clemency has brought about commutation of sentence for 17.

The fact that Mrs. Lassandra aided in the killing of an officer of the crown, it is argued, may be a powerful factor against the granting of clemency to her.

She, together with Emilio Picarello, known as the "king of bootleggers," slew Constable Steve O. Lawson at Blainmore last fall while Lawson was engaged in his official duty of suppressing illicit liquor traffic, trial evidence proved.

Mrs. Lassandra and Picarello were found jointly culpable in the slaying but evidence introduced seemed to prove the woman had fired the death shot with her own hand.

OTHER CASE SIMPLER
The case of Mrs. Christensen is more commonplace and Albertans agree her chances for leniency are greater.

She testified at her trial she had shot her husband during a struggle for the possession of a revolver with which she claimed he had menaced her.

But other evidence which gained belief by the jury proved Mrs. Christensen had bought cartridges before the slaying—which took place at Dapp, Alberta—and that afterward she had fled to Edmonton.

This evidence was deemed sufficient to convict her of first degree murder.

All this is being reviewed wherever people congregate in Alberta. Meanwhile the execution days grow daily nearer and public interest in the condemned pair grows daily tenser.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERS ADOPT CODE OF ETHICS

New York.—Adoption of a code of ethics, governing its membership of approximately 20,000, was announced by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. It is expected that ultimately this code, prepared by a joint committee of the national engineering societies, will apply to the entire engineering profession, embracing more than 200,000 professional engineers.

The mechanical engineers are the first to take this step, which is regarded as marking an advance in engineering ideals and, in respect to the government of its members as a whole, as placing the profession in a position analogous to the professions of law and medicine.

The code commands loyalty to country, personal honor, fairness to contractors and workers, and interest in the public welfare. Betrayal of professional confidences, undignified or misleading advertising, and questionable professional associations and practices are prohibited.

Club to Meet

The Wednesday club will meet at the home of Mrs. O. F. Clark, Second st., Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. C. L. Henderson will be in charge of the program.

9 o'clock Wednesday morning from the Albert Gresse home and at the Most Precious Blood church. Burial will be made in New London Catholic cemetery.

Mrs. Gresse was born in Germany and came to this country 55 years ago. She lived the entire time in Wisconsin. She is survived by 3 daughters, 2 sons, 26 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren.

GERMAN SCOFFS AT FRENCH FEAR OF REVENGE WAR

France's Policy Is Increasing German Hatred But She Is Helpless

BY MILTON BRONNER
Special To Post-Crescent

London.—"If one could believe France really would give up her military preparations on condition America and England guarantee her safety, I, as a German, would urge the United States to enter such an agreement."

"I can assure America it would not run the slightest risk of being forced again to draw its sword against Germany."

These startling remarks come from Hans Delbrueck, Germany's greatest living historian. In an exclusive interview Delbrueck, seeking to set at naught the anti-German statements broadcasted in America by Georges Clemenceau, declared:

"THAT an attack by war-weakened Germany on powerful France is ridiculous."

THAT Ludendorff, far from being a skilled strategist, is a bungler.

"French finances are weak, true," Delbrueck said, "but France, besides maintaining an army almost as great as before the war, building a vast fleet of submarines and casting quantities of cannon that could shoot across the channel to the hills of the Polish and Czech armies which menace Germany."

"The distress in which Germans live today can be appreciated when one realizes one dollar today buys 7000 marks instead of a little more than four marks, as in normal times."

"To get out of its industrial misery, Germany must have international credit. French policy makes credit impossible. And the huge cost

EXPECT TO FINISH HIGHWAY 55 DURING COMING SUMMER

Autoists Will Have Second Con- crete Road Leading to Milwaukee

A second all-concrete highway from Milwaukee to the entrance of Fond du Lac river valley at Fond du Lac will be provided this year by construction work contemplated by Fond du Lac and Washington counties, while the extension of the route to another link between Milwaukee and the Green Bay district is a possibility for the near future.

State trunk highway 55 north from Milwaukee to Fond du Lac is now completely paved with the exception of about 15 miles in Fond du Lac and a considerably shorter distance in Washington co.

Five miles of the road in Fond du Lac was completed for last year and had been partly completed when difficulties in cement delivery shut down the work. This piece will be finished this year.

Washington co also will finish the paving of highway 55 with the exception of one very short piece where the road has been rerouted. This section will be left unpaved for a short time to permit the new roadbed to settle properly.

MUST HAVE 4-DAY RESPITE FROM FLU

Thorough Recovery Demanded by State Before Patient Leaves Home

Children who have been sick with influenza cannot attend school until four days after temperature becomes normal and abnormal manifestations have disappeared, according to a rule of the state board of health, given in a chart published by the board's bureau of communicable diseases.

The onset of influenza is abrupt with fever, chills, pain in the head, back and limbs, as well as a cold in the head. Lassitude or profound depression are characteristic symptoms. The incubation period is from two to five days and the period of communicability is unknown, probably until four days after the temperature is normal, the board says.

Influenza is an exceedingly infectious malady frequently followed by serious after effects, it is said. The patient should be kept in the recumbent position until four days after the temperature has become normal or longer if necessary.

Teachers should send home at once every pupil with a severe cough, a severe cold, itchy face or other venereal or contagious skin disease, also children who are filthy in body or clothing or have any dangerous contagious or infectious disease, the board admonishes.

CRUSHES FINGERS Theodore E. Kamms, 28 Sherman pl., who is employed in one of the paper mills, crushed two fingers of his right hand last week by getting them caught in the machinery. Amputation probably will be necessary.

VAL of PARADISE

by Virgie S. Roe

A month had passed since that one great night. The winter would soon be closed down—with its loneliness and its memories.

This had had great weight, thus thought of the girl in the tragedy-haunted house, in bringing Velantrie to the present moment.

"I can't, Val," he had said at first bitterly, "how can I come to Paradise?"

"How can you not?" she had asked simply. "I need you. All Paradise will need you—and Paradise owes you much," she had finished with a tremor of her lips.

So he had said aside what thought he might have had of a new world, a different beginning. This was her home and her country. Here were her memories—and her graves.

Therefore, if she wanted him—here—why—what was there under the shining canopy that she could have asked of him in vain?

So now, at the end of a gorgeous day they rode together into the autumn sunset, up along the wide levels—looked at Mesa Grande towering toward the west—and came up at last to the patio where the dusky women stood behind the riders to give them greetings.

All were there—Fanita, old Juana, Miguel and Atlas and Felicitas—all save that sun youth, Jose. A month ago, on the heels of the great night, Tom Briston had dropped a heavy sword suddenly on Jose's shoulder and whirled him to face his accusing eyes.

"Now where," he had said harshly, "did you have the Redstar hit?" And the vaquero, started out of his usual calm, had answered helplessly, "In the Blind Trail Hills, senior—at the Senior Boss's orders."

"Like I thought. Well—Paradise won't need you any more," the foreman had told him pointedly, and Jose had gone with the dawn.

Perly, Stiff, Rosy and Dick stood now and watched with somewhat hostile eyes their Val come home to them belonging with all loving heart to the quiet man who rode beside her.

It was Briston, the foreman, who stood forth to greet them first with a warm, close clasp, almost as friendly for the one as for the other.

Always he was the perfect friend—and if he knew what he had meant that day beyond the simple words, "th' good man is th' one who can deal squarely by his fellows . . . who can love one woman either rewarded or unrewarded . . . who can sacrifice," he gave no sign as he held Velantrie's hand.

But Val, smiling down upon him in her quiet joy, knew that he would be Velantrie's strongest staff in a somewhat trying place and loved him better for it. Then she swung off Redstar and saw him trot away beside his double.

To Velantrie she turned those long dark eyes, shining with the light that would burn for him alone so long as life lasted.

"You have come back, Don," she whispered, "as I said you would—always—in the church door and to me."

"To stay," answered Velantrie, "sometime of the border," as he bent and kissed her softly.

THE END.

SENATE ASSUMES 'SHOW ME' ATTITUDE

Will Not Vote On Tax Problem Before Studying Question

By Associated Press

Madison—The state senate is taking a "show me" attitude on the tax question, with the result that any prediction concerning the outcome of revenue legislation presented to that body is at this time impossible. Thorough discussion and study is going to precede any vote on the Dahl general income tax bill or the Stevenson income surtax, in the senate.

Hasty action of the assembly in pushing through the Dahl bill by an overwhelming majority has not tended to influence senators in their stand. While many are prepared to vote for either of the two bills before the session without amendment, the senators holding the balance of power say that before they vote they must be shown what effect their vote will have on industry in general and on farmers and small merchants in particular.

The proposed repeal of the personal property tax offset to the income tax hangs in the balance in the upper house. As one influential administration senator says, "I will have to be shown that repeal of the personal property offset will be of direct benefit to the farmer and to the merchant before I can vote for it. This appears to me as a practical question, not as one to be passed on simply as a policy. If it will injure industry I wish to know because it is not my intention to vote for a proposal which will unnecessarily burden any person or class."

EXAMINE APRIL 3 FOR SHATTUCK SCHOLARSHIP

Arthur Shattuck of Neenah, world renowned pianist, has offered a scholarship to the best Wisconsin pianist who passes the competitive examination which will be held at the Milwaukee Institute of Music April 3. The scholarship will be Mr. Shattuck's gift to the musical development of the state. Applicants will come from all parts of the state. The judges chosen outside the school where the Neenah artist will teach. They are Ralph Pilema, Adams Bull and Mrs. Georgia Hall Quirk. The contest is limited to Wisconsin pianists. One private lesson and one class lesson daily will constitute the Shattuck course.

Heiress To Big Fortune Works In Hat Store

By Gene Cohn
San Francisco—Sole heiress to a fortune of $3,000,000, Lydia Hopkins nevertheless works as a saleswoman in a San Francisco department store. Millinery is her specialty. There's no make-believe, no amateurishness about it. In fact, Miss Hopkins disapproves strongly of society young women who enter the working girls' field just temporarily, for fun, curiosity or as a fad. "It isn't fair," she says. "Sometimes it keeps a girl from a position she needs."

ASKS NO FAVORS
Miss Hopkins asks no favors, no exceptional treatment. She arises at 6 a. m. to the tinkle of a tin alarm clock. She dons a plain black uniform. She hurries to the store where she is employed. She straightens out her stock of hats and is ready for the forenoon's trade. At noon she "punches the clock" and takes but an hour for a 24-cent lunch in the store cafeteria and maybe a short visit to the rest room. All the afternoon she sells hats. At 7 o'clock she's home again, pretty tired.

Sometimes she feels equal in the evening, to attending one of the social affairs of the "400," to which she always has a stack of invitations on hand; but more often she doesn't.

SHE WANTS EXPERIENCE
Why does she do all this? She does it, she says, for experience, and emphatically not for mere amusement. Incidentally, she recognizes that she's getting much information which will be of value to her in playing her fortune later in the interests of social welfare, but that isn't a point she cares to discuss yet. "I wanted," she explains, "to work and learn, not to play, and I found it was necessary to start at the bottom."

When Miss Hopkins began selling hats she introduced herself to her fellow saleswomen as one, in every respect, of their own sisterhood. Every now and then, however, some woman high in San Francisco society drops in and greets her as a member of the same "set."

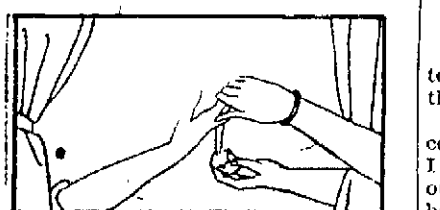

NOT ENTIRELY BELIEVED
"At first," she says, "I told the girls I was a poor relation, but I don't think they believe me entirely." Sometimes these incidents cause her embarrassment, but she's personally popular in the workers' circle, perhaps because of her own democratic views. "We're all women in the same world," she points out. "I discovered that when I was with the Red Cross during the war."

Miss Hopkins is a granddaughter of Mark Hopkins, who helped to make early American western history.

Household Suggestions

GOOD FOR BURNS

A soothing remedy in case of a burn or scald is white of egg. It eases pain and causes the injury to heal quickly.

PACKING UP SILVER
If you are going to pack your silver away from any length of time pack it in dry flour and it will remain untarnished and glistening.

PLANTS LIKE TEA
When you have tea left from a meal do not throw it away, but feed it to plants. Nearly all plants thrive on this beverage.

IMPROVES THE FLAVOR
Before frying sausage, roll them in flour. This prevents their breaking and improves the flavor.

GOOD MANNERS
In offering a fresh helping to a guest at your table don't emphasize the fact that it is the second. It is much better to say, "Mrs. Smith, do have some of the chicken," than "Mrs. Smith won't you have some more."

FASHIONABLE SKIRTS
The general rule for skirts seems to be that they be long and slim of outline, and any fullness is best introduced in the front.

Mrs. H. Litowitz of Chicago is a guest of her daughter, Mrs. A. Slater. H. Kahnert of St. Paul, a director of the Aid Association For Lutherans and a former Appleton resident, is attending the formal opening of the new Insurance building. Herman Rehfeldt is recovering from a severe attack of grip.

HERE IS HINT TO DAD TO HIDE THE FAMILY PURSE

HERE ARE SOME TYPICAL SPRING STYLES. FROM LEFT TO RIGHT ARE SHOWN: A DINNER GOWN OF WHITE CHIFFON, WITH PAINTED BORDERS; A GOWN OF LARGE-FIGURED SILK CUT ON THE SIMPLEST POSSIBLE LINES; AN EXTREME MODEL OF EMBROIDERED CREPE, WITH UNIQUE DIAPHRY, CHARACTERISTIC TREATMENT OF A BORDERED SILK, AND AN ATTRACTIVE AFTERNOON FROCK OF HEAVY FIGURED SILK, SIDE OPENING, WITH WHITE YOKE EFFECT.

BY MARIAN HALE

No woman is going to need urging to do her spring shopping early this year.

What she will need, however, is a sense of restraint, exercised possibly by parent or husband, if she never has developed that quality in herself.

Gowns for spring and summer are so comfortable looking, so gay and comparatively so simple and inexpensive that one is completely taken off guard.

In gowns the style leader of the moment seems to be the printed or bordered frock. You can't get away from it. Designs may be delicate and artistic or huge and crude—the sort of thing that suggests the immature work of a child.

Paisley, Persian and Indian designs are all being carried over from the winter, and are seen on silks and cottons alike.

After printed patterns come the all-over embroideries, naturally much more expensive. Wool and silk embroidery is not only used in bright colors and peasant designs on silks, but all-over patterns in self colors are excellent style.

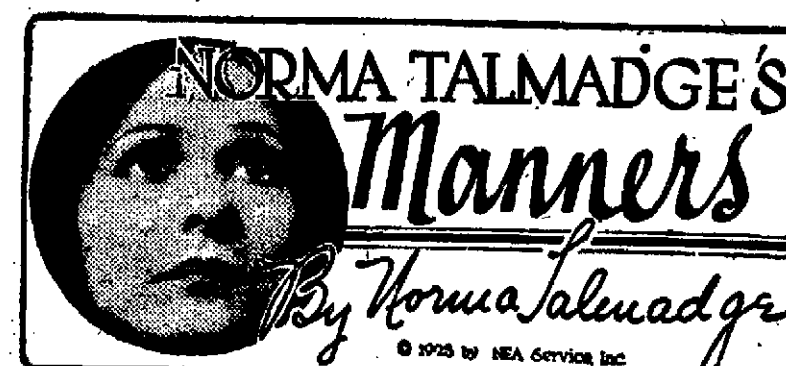

Lace is used extensively for the more elaborate type of frock, dyed brilliant colors, as well as in cream and black. Most frequently it is combined with a blouse or basque of silk or velvet.

Knit fabrics in silk and wool, tweeds, Poirer twill and flannel are all employed to make the popular type of sports frock that is embellished by scarves, monograms and the use of gay silks.

SKIRTS NOT VERY LONG
Skirts are of medium length, neither uncomfortably long nor conspicuously short, and they are pleated or draped or straight and narrow for those so inclined.

The waistline is slightly raised and gives a much trimmer line to the figure than the extremely low one of the fall and winter. The chemise frock is still very popular, but so is the basque bodice and the full skirt—that very youthful, girlish style.

Instead of the hard neckline of the past seasons we welcome the return of the V and square neck, and the white collars and cuffs and embroidered frills that so soften the line. Colors are running riot. There's a gay season ahead.

POLITENESS and poise go hand in hand. Gentility is as necessary on the street as in the drawing room; more so, for on the street the world and his wife are watching you. The stranger in today's crowd may be your associate in tomorrow's affairs. Every opportunity to create a good impression can be converted into life's greatest asset, good will.

ON THE STREET

1: Bowing first is the woman's privilege but she never fails to bow, even to a slight acquaintance, without good reason.

2: A man walking with two women does not sandwich himself between them, but walks on the curb side, with the elder woman next to him.

3: On meeting an acquaintance with whom one wishes to chat, one should stroll along with him, instead of stopping.

4: In any situation which suggests to a man that he raise his hat, it is better to do so, for should he be in error it at least is on the side of courtesy.

5: A simple "thank you" is all that's required of a woman for whom a man has retrieved a glove, bag or handkerchief.

IT'S BAD MANNERS for a man to take a woman by the arm; instead, he offers her his arm if occasion requires.

FOR SCHOOL GIRLS

Attractive hats for school girls are made of coarse straw, trimmed with huge bows of plaid or polka dot ribbon.

TAFETTA AND LACE

Black lace makes an effective trimming for a frock of green taffeta.

It is cut on very old-fashioned lines with a full, long bouffant skirt, and has a shoulder drape of the lace which fastens in front with a corsage bouquet.

Will show you how folks get those whiter, cleaner teeth

Go ask for a test of this new way of teeth cleaning. It means too much to miss.

You see prettier teeth everywhere today. Learn how people get them.

Do this now. Millions of people of some 50 nations enjoy these benefits. Get them for yourself.

Film makes teeth dingy

That vicious film you feel on teeth is their chief enemy. It clouds them. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

Film absorbs stains, then forms a dingy coat. Tartar is based on film. That's why teeth lose luster.

Film holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. That's why few escaped tooth troubles.

Germes breed by millions in film. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea, now so alarmingly common.

Now they curdle film

Old brushing methods did not effectively combat film. As a result, nearly all people suffered from it.

Now dental science knows two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods by many careful tests. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. Those film combatants were embodied in it for daily application.

That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. To millions of homes it has brought a new dental era.

Advised the world over

Avoid Harmful Grit
Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film comb which contains harsh grit.

Careful people the world over now use Pepsodent, largely by dental advice. It has supplanted in millions of homes the methods of the past.

NEW HIP SKIRT ISN'T SO EASY TO GET INTO

Hip skirts are the latest development of the low-waistline movement. They are wrapped around the figure about five inches below the normal waistline, and one must be careful to get them on at just the fashionable level on one's anatomy, for if you try to lift them to the waistline they will be too large at the waist, too small at the hip and five inches shorter than the fashion law demands. You simply lap the draped side over the other, clasp it at the hip and let it fly and flutter as it will to windward. It should be worn over a slip and a long body blouse. These skirts are new and excessively smart, and the best Fifth Avenue shops are showing them in satin crepe, Canton crepe and printed crepe. For a day costume the black skirts are usually worn with a long blouse of printed silk. The skirts themselves are sufficiently elegant to answer for a restaurant-dinner dress with a blouse of white crepe silk embroidered with silver or gold, with white silk and crystal beads, or with wax red beads. With the two blouses and the wrap-around skirt you have two costumes—one for afternoon and one for evening. The afternoon dress can be worn with a blouse jacket, making a costume suit, the evening dress with a cape. Under a jacket the blouse can be of a plain-colored crepe instead of a printed silk. Orange or tangerine embroidered in king's blue or silver is now. Jade is very smart.

The solid colors are frequently used without trimming, but the trimming gives the new figured effect that is having such a vogue.—From the Designer.

FLANNEL FROCKS

Flannel is a very popular material just now for sports costumes and there is a chance that it will challenge the popularity of jersey cloth. It is particularly effective in white and in black and white combinations.

Adventures Of The Twins

A Peculiar Journey

Backward flew the magic automobile with Nancy and Nick in it.

It certainly did look now as though they never would reach the Fairy Queen's Palace, and they wondered what the good queen herself would be thinking when they did not return with her car.

But it wasn't their fault. It was Light Fingers who had caused the trouble by dropping a magic pill into the gasoline tank.

Back they went, back and back and back, right toward the cave of Twelve Toes, the Sorcerer.

They whizzed by the field with the Scare Crow in it, and the Scare Crow was so surprised he fell over on his straw face.

They whizzed by the chimney where the Sweep lived, and the Sweep was so surprised he fell clear out of the chimney top.

They whizzed by the three-cornered door of Brownfield and Mr. Pim Pim, looking out, was so surprised he fell down his step-ladder.

They whizzed by the orchard where Buskins, the apple-tree fairy lived, and he was so surprised he fell out of his elevator to the ground.

They whizzed by Rubadub, and Tingaling and Scribble-Scratch and all their old fairy friends, and everybody was so surprised they fell down, too, every one of them.

Then something happened. The Green Wizard saw them and saved them.

When they were passing the big tree where he lived, he reached down with his toe and turned the car all the way around. It was still going backward, but in the right direction.

They were on their way again to the Fairy Queen's Palace. (To Be Continued)

Corrects old mistakes

Research also proved that old methods brought undesired effects. They decreased the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

They reduced the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Pepsodent brings just opposite effects. It multiplies that alkalinity, multiplies that starch digestant. Thus it gives manifold power to these great natural tooth-protecting agents.

This test will show

The results of this test will amaze and delight you. Make it—watch the changes that occur.

Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Compare the results with old methods—by what you clearly see and feel. You will gain a new conception of clean teeth.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

A Korean girl is not given a name until her marriage, when she merges her identity into that of her husband.

During her girlhood she generally is referred to as "it," or as the daughter of So-and-So; later she is known as the mother of her sons.

On the wedding day the Korean bride is heavily veiled; the bridegroom appears clad in white except for a gay waistcoat and a hat woven from the hair of his father's ancestors.

RAFFIA FLOWERS

Raffia flowers, in vivid shades of red, yellow and blue, are used to trim the pockets and sleeves of a smart sport dress of white crepe de chine.

COLLARS OF OSTRICH

Clipped ostrich is used to make the collars of some of the evening coats for summer wear. It is dyed to match the wrap which is usually of pastel shades.

TESTED RECIPES

CODFISH BALLS

Put two cups of raw potatoes, cut into large pieces, and a cup of salt codfish, separated into small bits, in a kettle, cover them with boiling water, and cook until the potatoes are soft.

Drain the water off thoroughly, mash the potatoes and fish, and add two tablespoons of butter, an eighth teaspoon of pepper and an egg, slightly beaten.

Beat thoroughly and, if at all moist, place in a warm place and allow it to stand until evaporated.

Drop by spoonfuls into deep fat hot enough to brown a piece of bread in 40 counts.

Drain on paper and serve very hot.

FRANK GOEHEEN

Riding by the fans made a famous hockey player out of "Moose" Johnson, long a leader in Canadian leagues. The same sort of derision has made a star out of another "Moose," Frank Goheen, who is a big factor on St. Paul's success in keeping in the running in the United States Hockey league's western group, is the player. He is at his best when the fans are against him. He plays such a hard game and causes so many splits that there is ample chance for fan dom's ire.

"Moose" Goheen was the most hated player appearing in Elveholt, Minn., this year. The fans waxed almost vengeful in their "razzing" and Goheen is credited with single-handed victories over the home team two successive days.

Now they like him at Elveholt.

Heavy Sports Calendar For Present Week

Appleton sport fans certainly will not lack excitement this week. Beginning Tuesday night the Appleton Aces and the U. S. Tractors of Menasha will clash in the Armory in the first professional boxing meet in the city this season.

Wednesday night Elmer Johnston will present four pair of boxers in 26 rounds of boxing when Jack Duffy, Chicago and Gunner Joe Quinn, St. Paul, will be the feature attraction.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday the Appleton district tournament, to decide who will go down to the state meet at Madison will absorb all the night.

ACES COP GAME FROM HORTONVILLE

Appleton Aces copped a victory Friday night when they invaded Hortonville and downed the Merchants basketball team by a score of 17 to 12. Halias forward, played the best game for the Appleton quintet, with 9 points, or more than half, to his credit.

The Aces kept the ball shooting toward the iron rim in the first half until they piled up a lead the Merchants couldn't overcome, although the Hortonville boys made 10 points in the last half. The Aces' half ended with the score 11 to 5 in the Aces' favor.

Dunn, center, made four points for the Aces and Loose, forward, made four. Kessler and Fahlstrom, guards, played a strong game.

The Aces will play the U. S. Tractor team, Menasha, in the Armory G Tuesday night.

WISCONSIN "U" BASEBALL SQUAD PRACTICES DAILY

Team Hard Hit By Players Being Declared Ineligible For Professionalism

Madison—Practice in bunting and sliding to bases, is limbering up the University of Wisconsin baseball squad which practices daily in its gymnasium annex cage.

After more than a week of warming up workouts, Coach Guy S. Lawman has cut away the deadwood and is now passing from fundamentals to some of the finer points in the national game.

His biggest problem is to develop pitchers to succeed Forrest V. Pad-zock, who graduated and will pitch in the Midwest league this summer, and Philby Hoffman, who was declared ineligible because of professionalism.

When four members of the team, including Captain and third baseman George P. Reudiger, were barred because of professionalism, baseball prospects were dealt a severe blow. Lawman has picked up enough men to fill the fielding positions, but he lacks a finished battery.

Harvey L. Becker, 25, Galesville, has been converted from an outfielder into a receiver and he looks like the best bet for first-string out-cher. Jerome M. Pickford, 23, Lake Mills, is the only veteran twirler remaining from last year's team.

The Wisconsin spring training trip will begin on April 5 when Coach Lawman will lead his balltossing squad south for a series of games. Contests are scheduled with Mississippi university, Mississippi A & M, Mississippi college, and Alabama university. Notre Dame and Armour Tech, Chicago, will probably furnish the opposition in a pair of tilts before the team returns to Madison on April 14.

DUFFY DUE HERE THIS AFTERNOON

Jack Duffy, who will battle for ten rounds with clever Gunner Joe Quinn, St. Paul, Wednesday night in the Armory G, in the second card of the season, is due to arrive here from Chicago at 2:45 Monday. He will make his home in Hotel Appleton.

Quinn, accompanied by Gibbons and Collins will arrive Tuesday. The coming of both managers of the Twin City scrapper, who themselves are better known than their many prodigies is expected to create a bit of stir in the sporting circles here.

Quinn and his managers will be stabled in the Conway hotel.

Duffy will battle at 158 pounds and Quinn at 155. Duffy will be a trifle lighter than when he fought here last and he will be in much better shape to put up a swift scrap.

Promoter Johnston has placed tickets on sale with Miller and Rude and at Bellings drug store.

A considerable delegation is expected to be here Wednesday night from Milwaukee who will be with Quinn.

COEDS RECEIVE COLLEGE LETTER

Ripon — Miss Isabel Luck, Ripon, and Miss Estella Pearce, Cairo, members of the Ripon college coed rifle team, have been presented with the official college "R" in recognition of their superior records in marksmanship. Both girls have maintained an average in all firing of 92.

Two former coeds members of the class of 1922, were also honored with an "R". They were Miss Gertrude Knocke and Miss Elizabeth Hall.

In addition, the following men received letters for expert rifle marksmanship: Coleman Gunderson, Wat-toma; Robert Gregory, Ripon; John Krulover, Menominee; Mich; Floyd Soule, Ripon; Harold Banville, Ripon; Sylvester Toussaint, Wauwatosa; Harry Ringdahl, Stoughton; Raymond Perrie, Amboy, Ill.; Warren Mutch, Ripon; Burl Miller, Reedsburg, and Newton Jones, Antigo.

HIGH TAXES FORCE BAY FIRM TO QUIT

Green Bay—As a result of the taxation program now before the Wisconsin legislature, the Willow Grass Bay company, Green Bay, employing more than 200 persons, and buying grass from farmers who employ approximately 1,000 grass cutters during the summer months, will wind up its affairs here and go out of business.

A recent appraisal of the plant placed its valuation at about $300,000. The plant covers about eighteen acres of land.

The announcement by the Willow Grass company is the second of its kind to be made here this week. The Green Bay Foundry company, employing 40 persons announced on Thursday their intention of moving the plant to Menominee, Mich., as a direct result of the tax program.

STATE LOOKS FOR APPLETON TO WIN

"Dark Horse," However, May Give Denney's Men Hard Tiff

Interest in the coming basketball tournament here in the Armory G, Thursday, Friday and Saturday is statewide. Fans throughout Badger-dom are expecting Appleton to win and to enter the final tournament at Madison for the state championship.

According to many of the "dopers" Coach Denney's Appleton high school cagers with Clintonville high school squad are leading in the list of possible victors. Both Denney's city's offering have almost perfect records, with decisive defeats to their credit over some of the leading schools in the state. Clintonville has played 21 games and lost but 3 thus far this season, while the sterling record of the Denneys is well known to every Appleton fan.

LOOK OUT FOR "DARK HORSE"

This by no means, however, would indicate that the goose is already cooked. The wise critic knows that no tournament is won until the final game is over, and more than once in events of this kind has a "dark horse" loomed up to cop honors. The coach of Clintonville has played six teams have been made available records thus far this season and with the added encouragement of tournament laurels to spur them on, are determined to provide a rough way for the winners. West De Pere has played in 14 games this season and is as yet undefeated. Seymour has won the greater share of her season's schedule; New London claims an 80 per cent perfect record. Menasha has a plucky team and promises some competition; Bear Creek has topped a goodly share of her games; while West Green Bay, with a well balanced aggregation of plucky fighters, hopes to get in a lick in the tourney that will long be remembered.

MANY COMING HERE

Appleton will of course hold the advantage of playing on the home floor and with the excellent quint Coach Denney has developed, championship hopes are certainly bright. It is up to Appleton fans to turn out en masse to back the Blue and Orange. According to reports from the other contending cities, every team will have scores of backers along the side lines, with several of the schools closing down for the two school days of the tournament.

LUTHERAN LEAGUE TO BOWL THIS WEEK

Organization of teams for the March tournament of the Lutheran Aid Bowling club is under way by the officers of the league. Sixty-two have signed up for the series to date, including 15 women. It is expected that the schedule will be started before the end of the week.

Match games probably will be rolled every evening on the alleys in the clubrooms in the Insurance-bldg. The prizes are to be announced soon, and will include separate awards for the women.

Those who have registered and whose names were not in the previous list are: Ed Krueger, Martha Luettel, Carl Stach, E. F. If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-go feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous side effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

SHEBOYGAN TO PLAY AT TWO RIVERS MEET

By Associated Press

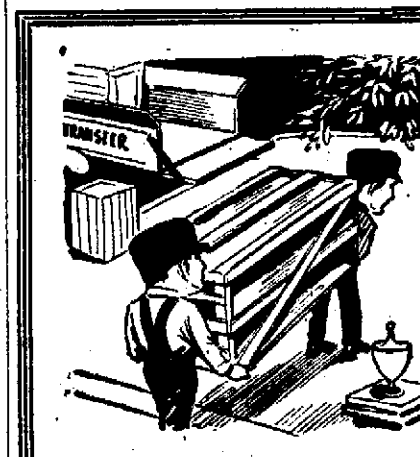

Two Rivers — The sectional high school basketball tournament will be held at Two Rivers as originally planned with eight teams entered, the winner to go to the state tournament at Madison. The tournament will open March 8 with semi-final games on Friday and the finals on Saturday. Loving cups and medal prizes will be awarded in addition to the trip to Madison for the winner.

Two Rivers declined to accept the journey when it was found that the expense would exceed the estimate by $200 or more but the directors made changes so that the city felt that it could accept and has completed plans. Sheboygan, which finished the conference season with a clear record of wins, Manitowoc, Plymouth, Kiel, Kewaunee, Algoma, Luxemburg and Two Rivers are the eight teams scheduled to play in the meet with Art Meyer of Milwaukee, who handled the state contests at Milwaukee last year, officiating as referee.

The Cause of Disease

MODERN Science, which is always studying cause and effect, has demonstrated that disease in adults and improper development and sickness in children are the results of faulty nerve action due to spinal defects. The bones of the spine press on the nerves and interfere with the distribution of energy throughout the body. A correction of these defects restores uninterrupted nerve force and invariably results in the return of health.

CHIROPRACTIC

is the science that has demonstrated this connection between disease and defective spines. For years, and in the face of bitter criticism and strong opposition, Chiropractors have been adjusting the defects in spines to remove the cause of disease. Wonderful results have been obtained, even in cases that were considered incurable. Everywhere there are people who have been greatly helped by

The Better Way to Health

Those who are not in health, who are not strong and well; who are nervous; fagged-out; inefficient; and who feel they need to be recharged with vital energy, will no doubt find relief through spinal adjustments. You owe it to yourself, your family and your friends to investigate Chiropractic.
